Abstract

This abstract is ordinary body prose introducing the document so the section heading above is recognised as a canonical top-level head.

1 Introduction

The introduction is plain paragraph text under a numbered section heading and should be extracted as a paragraph in reading order.

1.1 Background

A subsection beneath the introduction, one level deeper in the outline.

1.1.1 Prior Work

A sub-subsection, the deepest numbered level in this document.

2 Methods

Another top-level numbered section with its own body paragraph.

Smith et al. (2019) demonstrated the approach on several datasets in detail.

This is an ordinary declarative sentence of body prose that ends with a period.

We thank J. K. Lee and M. R. Patel for helpful discussions and feedback here.
