

Prose With Incidental Marks

This page is ordinary running prose. It contains a couple of incidental vector marks that are not figures and have no caption near them.

The narrative continues afterwards without referring to any figure at all.

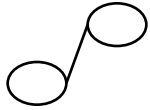

Figure 1: The control diagram that does have a caption.